

Rabbi Grant Leboff

Rabbi-in-Residence | Caesar Pesach 2026

We are delighted to welcome Rabbi Grant Leboff as our Rabbi-in-Residence for the Caesar Pesach 2026 programme.

Alongside his rabbinical role, Rabbi Leboff is recognised as one of the U.K.'s leading sales and marketing experts, bringing a rare blend of Torah insight and real-world business experience.

He is the author of five highly acclaimed business books, including Digital Selling, which reached #1 on the Amazon charts ahead of its publication. His earlier titles, Stickier Marketing, Sticky Marketing, and Sales Therapy, all achieved bestseller status, consistently ranking at the top of Amazon's Sales & Marketing category.

Following the successful sale of his direct marketing business, Rabbi Leboff made Aliyah and has since become an internationally sought-after speaker, consultant, and mentor. He regularly presents at major conferences and events around the world, sharing his expertise in marketing, behavioural psychology, and business strategy.

Rabbi Leboff has been featured in leading publications such as The Financial Times, The Daily Telegraph, and The Independent, and is a frequent contributor to business media. He has also appeared on BBC Radio and numerous U.S. radio networks.

Today, based in Ra'anana, Rabbi Leboff is a respected and engaging Torah educator, delivering shiurim both locally and internationally. His unique ability to connect timeless Torah values with the realities of modern life has made him a popular and inspiring speaker across a wide range of audiences.

Combining deep Torah knowledge with decades of global business experience, Rabbi Leboff offers a fresh, thought-provoking perspective on contemporary issues, personal growth, and everyday challenges.

His sessions are known for being insightful, relevant, and intellectually stimulating leaving audiences with practical takeaways and a deeper connection to Torah.
